

Unknown Denizens of the Creek: The Natural History of Lamprey and Freshwater Mussels in the Pacific Northwest

We have all heard volumes about salmonids, but what about the other aquatic creatures that live in Clark County?

Come to this free presentation, hosted by Clark County Water Resources, on the natural history of lamprey and freshwater mussels in the Pacific Northwest.

Lamprey

Freshwater mussel

Christina Luzier of the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and Al Smith of the Pacific Northwest Native Freshwater Mussel Work Group will present their current research on these fascinating creatures, their population status in the Pacific Northwest, and what they tell us about water quality.
